WELCOME TO ONE FOUR NINE WEALTH.

Another day, another year. Traditionally, at the start of a new year lots of people tend to think about new resolutions. Something to focus on, a 'new year, new me' mentality. To get fitter, eat more healthily, spend more time with friends and family, review your or your family's finances, the list goes on.

We do understand, though, that we are still in the middle of winter with very cold nights and as the cost of living and energy crisis grips tighter, we, as we always have been, are here to listen and help you on any concerns you may have. One Four Nine Wealth focuses on topical financial matters and is accessible for every client of One Four Nine Group, be that of Charter Financial Planning; Rice Whatmough Crozier; Total Wealth Planning; APC Financial Solutions; Russell Gibson Financial Management; or HFL Financial Advisers. Please do get in touch with your local investment, financial advisory or planning team – they are on hand and happy to help, guide and advise.

INSIDE THIS ISSUE

We focus on the importance of not missing out on this year's Individual Savings Account (ISA) allowance. You either use it or you lose it and we follow this up with answers to some of the most common ISA questions.

With confirmation of the State Pension 'triple lock' retuning from April 2023, we delve into potential retirement plans that include the 'phased retirement' and the unique retirement planning challenges that women face, including the impact of menopause. You will also find an article explaining what financial products there are for children, which you may be considering at the start of the new year.

We'll provide you with an insight of what the entire Group has been up to in terms of its charity collections. Clothes, food, toiletries and much more have been gathered and donated cross the UK for some incredibly worthwhile causes during these very tough times.

We hope you enjoy reading One Four Nine Wealth.

NEW YEAR, NEW START TO YOUR FINANCES

Time to make financial New Year resolutions you can keep? New Year resolutions are much easier to meet when you consider what is most important. For many people, it often brings around an opportunity for change. Whatever your aims, we're here to help. We hope you enjoy reading this issue and if you would like further information or want to arrange an appointment, please contact us.

INFORMATION IS BASED ON OUR CURRENT UNDERSTANDING OF TAXATION LEGISLATION AND REGULATIONS. ANY LEVELS AND BASES OF, AND RELIEFS FROM, TAXATION ARE SUBJECT TO CHANGE.

THE VALUE OF INVESTMENTS MAY GO DOWN AS WELL AS UP, AND YOU MAY GET BACK LESS THAN YOU INVESTED.

CHANCELLOR RETAINS STATE PENSION TRIPLE LOCK

STATE PENSION IS SET FOR A RECORD-BREAKING INCREASE FROM APRIL 2023

If you're currently receiving or have been looking into the State Pension, then you've probably heard of the 'triple lock'. But what is it?

The triple lock was introduced in 2010. Its purpose is to make sure that the State Pension doesn't lose value over time. The triple lock aims to protect pensioners against the impact of inflation. If the State Pension didn't change but the price of goods and services continued to increase over time, then you wouldn't be able to buy as much with it. Meaning you'd be losing money in real terms.

In the 2022 Autumn Statement, the Chancellor confirmed that the triple lock will be reinstated from 6 April 2023. This means the State Pension will rise in line with last September's inflation rate – 10.1% – in the 2023/24 tax year. Anyone receiving the State Pension will benefit from the triple lock.

To make the guarantee even more secure, it included three separate measures of inflation, hence 'triple lock'. The three-way guarantee was that each year, the State Pension would increase by the greatest of the following three measures: average earnings; prices, as measured by the Consumer Prices Index (CPI); and 2.5%. The government usually compares the three rates in September, before implementing the correct rise the following April.

The State Pension triple lock has proved to be a burden for successive governments, as it has proven costly for the taxpayer. Because of people earning much less during the lockdowns of 2020, there was a big leap in average earnings of 8% come 2021 as people returned to work. The government announced that the triple lock would be suspended for the 2022/23 tax year. ■

WHAT WILL YOUR RETIREMENT LOOK LIKE?

It's never too early to be planning ahead. We can help you create a robust and flexible retirement plan. A plan that will consider your future expenditure and the impact of inflation, as well as making the best use of tax allowances. To find out more, please get in touch.

/// THE STATE PENSION TRIPLE LOCK HAS PROVED TO BE A BURDEN FOR SUCCESSIVE GOVERNMENTS, AS IT HAS PROVEN COSTLY FOR THE TAXPAYER. BECAUSE OF PEOPLE EARNING MUCH LESS DURING THE LOCKDOWNS OF 2020, THERE WAS A BIG LEAP IN AVERAGE EARNINGS OF 8% COME 2021 AS PEOPLE RETURNED TO WORK.

DON'T MISS THE ISA DEADLINE

USE YOUR TAX-EFFICIENT ALLOWANCE OR LOSE IT FOREVER!

Time is running out to take advantage of this year's Individual Savings Account (ISA) allowances. You get one ISA allowance per tax year. So use it or lose it soon, when the tax year ends on 5 April.

/// AN ISA IS A 'TAX-EFFICIENT WRAPPER'. TYPES OF ISA INCLUDE A CASH ISA AND STOCKS & SHARES ISA. A CASH ISA IS SIMILAR TO A NORMAL DEPOSIT ACCOUNT, EXCEPT THAT YOU PAY NO TAX ON THE INTEREST YOU EARN.

Any unused ISA allowance will not be rolled over into the new tax year. On 6 April when the new tax year starts, if you haven't used all of your or your children's ISA allowances from the previous tax year, they will be lost forever.

WANT TO KNOW MORE ABOUT INVESTING IN AN ISA? YOUR ISA QUESTIONS ANSWERED

Q: WHAT IS AN INDIVIDUAL SAVINGS ACCOUNT (ISA)?

A: An ISA is a 'tax-efficient wrapper'. Types of ISA include a Cash ISA and Stocks & Shares ISA. A Cash ISA is similar to a normal deposit account, except that you pay no tax on the interest you earn. Stock & Shares ISAs allow you to invest in equities, bonds or commercial property without paying personal tax on your proceeds.

Q: CAN I HAVE MORE THAN ONE ISA?

A: You have a total tax-efficient allowance of £20,000 for this tax year. This means that the sum of money you invest across all your ISAs this tax year (Cash ISA, Stocks & Shares ISA, Lifetime ISAs, Innovative Finance ISA, or any combination) cannot exceed £20,000. However, bear in mind that you have the flexibility to split your tax-efficient allowance across as many ISAs and ISA types as you wish. For example, you may invest £10,000 in a Stocks & Shares ISA and the remaining £10,000 in a Cash ISA. This is a useful option for those who want to use their investment for different purposes and over varying periods of time.

Q: WHEN WILL I BE ABLE TO ACCESS THE MONEY I SAVE IN AN ISA?

A: Some ISAs may tie your money up for a period of time. However, others are flexible. If you're after flexibility, variable rate Cash ISAs don't tend to have a minimum commitment. This means you can keep your money in one of these ISAs for as long – or as short – a time as you like. This type of ISA also allows you to take some of the money out of the ISA and put it back in without affecting its tax-efficient status.

'An ISA is a tax-efficient way to invest because your money is shielded from Income Tax, tax on dividends and Capital Gains Tax'

On the other hand, fixed-rate Cash ISAs will typically require you to tie your money up for a set amount of time. If you decide to cut the term short, you usually have to pay a penalty. But ISAs that tie your money up for longer do tend to have higher interest rates.

Stocks & Shares ISAs don't usually have a minimum commitment, which means you can take your money out at any point. As with all investing, it's recommended that you invest your money for at least five years or more. Staying invested for longer allows your investment to grow and to better weather any market volatility. With the cost of living in the UK rising at its fastest rate in 41 years, can you really afford to see the purchasing power of your hard-earned savings stagnate in a bank account?

Q: COULD I TAKE ADVANTAGE OF A LIFETIME ISA?

A: You're able to open a Lifetime ISA if you're aged between 18 and 39. You can use a Lifetime ISA to buy your first home or save for later life. You can put in up to £4,000 each year until you're 50. The government will add a 25% bonus to your savings, up to a maximum of £1,000 per year.

Q: WHAT IS AN INNOVATIVE FINANCE ISA?

A: An Innovative Finance ISA allows individuals to use some or all of their annual ISA allowance to lend funds through the Peer to Peer lending market. Peer to Peer lending allows individuals and companies to borrow money directly from lenders. Your capital and interest may be at risk in an Innovative Finance ISA and your investment is not covered under the Financial Services Compensation Scheme.

Q: WHAT IS A JUNIOR ISA?

A: This is a savings and investment vehicle for children up to the age of 18. It is a tax-efficient way to save or invest as it is free from any Income Tax, tax on dividends and Capital Gains Tax on the proceeds. The Junior ISA subscription limit is currently £9,000 for the tax year 2022/23.

Q: IS TAX PAYABLE ON ISA DIVIDEND INCOME?

A: No tax is payable on dividend income. You don't pay tax on any dividends paid inside your ISA.

Q: IS CAPITAL GAINS TAX (CGT) PAYABLE ON MY ISA INVESTMENT GAINS?

A: You don't have to pay any CGT on profits.

Q: I ALREADY HAVE ISAS WITH SEVERAL DIFFERENT PROVIDERS. CAN I CONSOLIDATE THEM?

A: Yes you can, and you won't lose the tax-efficient 'wrapper' status. Many previously attractive savings accounts may cease to have a good rate of interest, and naturally some Stocks & Shares ISAs don't perform as well as investors would have hoped. Consolidating your ISAs may also substantially reduce your paperwork. We'll be happy to talk you through your options.

Q: CAN I TRANSFER MY EXISTING ISA?

A: Yes, you can transfer an existing ISA from one provider to another at any time as long as the product terms and conditions allow it. If you want to transfer money you've invested in an ISA during the current tax year, you must transfer all of it. For money you invested in previous years, you can choose to transfer all or part of your savings.

Q: WHAT HAPPENS TO MY ISA IF I DIE PREMATURELY?

A: The rules on ISA death benefits allow for an extra ISA allowance to the deceased's spouse or registered civil partner. ■

TIME TO TAKE YOUR ISA TO THE MAX?

ISAs are one of the most straightforward ways to achieve tax-efficient gains. Remember you can currently invest up to £20,000 this tax year in an ISA, so a couple can put £40,000 out of the reach of the taxman. And don't forget your children or grandchildren. Parents and guardians can invest up to £9,000 in a Junior ISA. To find out more or discuss your requirements, please contact us.

THE VALUE OF YOUR INVESTMENTS CAN GO DOWN AS WELL AS UP AND YOU MAY GET BACK LESS THAN YOU INVESTED.

GIVING BACK TO SOCIETY

WHY IT'S IMPORTANT TO GIVE BACK DURING THE COST OF LIVING CRISIS

The employees of One Four Nine collected and donated to various charities across the UK in December 2022.

In any given year, I think it's fair to say that we all experience highs and lows. Sometimes they are a consequence of our own actions and other times it's completely out of our control. What's important is how we respond to these moments.

2022 has been a prime example. It was only at the beginning of 2022 when the UK removed Covid-19 restrictions after two years of national and regional lockdowns. No longer needing to worry about what bubble you were in, a sense of normality was returning. Yet, only weeks later, millions of people's lives were put in danger and they were forced to flee from where they lived as war returned to Europe. With the additional impact it had on the markets, normality still seemed out of reach.

Later in the year, we celebrated the Queen's Platinum Jubilee – 70 years on the throne that resulted in a four-day weekend with events taking place all over the country. It would be only a few months later Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth II passed away. Despite this incredibly sad time, we came together as a nation and showed the world the best of us bearing witness to truly historic moments, some, once in a lifetime.

On top of this we have gone through three prime ministers, four chancellors and inflation and interest rates that have risen to levels we have not seen for a very long time, while numerous strikes across different sectors continue to take place because of the current cost of living difficulties.

During such a tumultuous and volatile time, it was important to the employees across One Four Nine (Charter Financial Planning, Rice Whatmough Crozier, Total Wealth Planning, APC Financial Solutions & Consultancy Services, Russell Gibson Financial Management and HFL Financial Advisers) to end the year by helping those in need. After all, everyone's situation is unique and there are many people who are not as fortunate as others.

It was decided by all employees of the One Four Nine Group that together we would collect donations for local charities and food banks. In the remainder of this article, we've listed the charities and food banks alongside a few links should you wish to also donate. ■

'PHASED RETIREMENT'

PRE-RETIRES STARTING THEIR PLANS BUT WILL RISING LIVING COSTS HALT THEIR PLANS?

Retiring early is a dream for many people and it is achievable for people who have been able to plan, save into a pension over a long period and taken financial advice to help them plan their finances. However, it can become a financial problem if retirement is forced upon people before they have had time to prepare.

It's estimated that to maintain your current lifestyle, you'll need around 60 – 70% of your present monthly income. The reduced outgoings are due to not having a mortgage to pay, reduced commuting spend and, hopefully, your children can now support themselves financially.

LIFESTYLE YOU WANT

But those people retiring early have less time to save into a pension fund and their fund needs to last longer. They potentially will have a reduced retirement income and run a greater risk of running out of money in retirement.

People planning for retirement should think hard about what they want to do when they eventually stop work. It is helpful to have a good idea of the lifestyle you want, how much it will cost and how you are going to pay for it.

RETIREMENT NEST EGG

Retirement might seem a lifetime away for younger people who are concentrating on their careers, buying a home or raising a family but they can take action now to secure their retirement. The simplest option is make sure you join your company pension and save as much as you can. Making additional contributions early in your career can make a huge difference to the size of your retirement nest egg.

Research^[1] has found that 34% of pre-retirees^[2] (those aged 55+ who are still in some form of work) have already started phasing into retirement – equating to 3.3 million^[3] employees. The study reinforces the idea that retirement is no longer a line in the sand.

PERCEPTION OF LATER LIFE

The number of pre-retirees considering a gradual or phased move into full retirement shows how much the perception of later life has changed in recent years. However people choose to approach retirement, it's important they see it as something that should be actively managed, and not something they already feel they are 'in' or have 'done'.

Almost half (48%) of all employees aged 55+ expect that they will cut down the amount they work rather than completely stopping, with one in seven (14%) planning to wind down over the next year.

PHASED RETIREMENT ROUTE

Many people want to take the phased retirement route by reducing their hours, so they can keep their job but lessen their stress (37%). However, most people have revealed they are making the decision because they simply cannot afford to retire fully (44%).

On average, over half (54%) of all people who are taking a phased approach to retirement are working 15+ hours less every month, consequently earning £9,150 less every year. As a result, many expect to have to adjust their lifestyle (38%), and some even anticipate they could struggle with meeting the cost of household essentials (17%).

POTENTIAL GAP IN SALARY

Despite the intention to slow down at work, the cost of living has had an impact, with one in ten people who had begun to phase into retirement having to increase their work commitments again. In addition, two-fifths (40%) of people who anticipated gradually moving into retirement in the next five years now worry living costs might mean this plan is not possible.

For those wanting to keep their options open while also looking for ways to supplement their income, flexible products such as fixed term annuities can play an important role. They provide a guaranteed income for a set time – in some cases as little as three years, helping to bridge any potential gap in salary. ■

FINDING IT CHALLENGING TO NAVIGATE YOUR RETIREMENT PLANS?

With the increased pressures applied by the cost of living crisis, your money must go further than it ever has done. Ultimately, the key thing is to make sure you are making well-informed decisions about what works best for you. If you would like to discuss your situation, please contact us for more information.

[2] 'Pre-retirees' refers to those aged 55+ who are still in some form of work

[3] On a nat rep survey of 4,000, 248 55+ year-old workers have already taken a phased approach to retirement (248/4,000 *52.890m = 3.3m)

NO 'ONE-SIZE-FITS-ALL' PROTECTION SOLUTION

HELPING YOU FEEL CONFIDENT YOUR FAMILY'S FINANCES ARE SECURE

With a New Year comes resolutions. Everyone should make a resolution to review their protection and estate plans. A solid plan will help you feel confident your family's finances are secure.

The uncertainty of the past couple of years has shown how important it is to have a robust plan in place for securing your family's finances. While no one knows what is around the corner, reviewing your protection, updating your Will and creating an estate plan will help you rest assured that the financial side of things is taken care of.

These are some of the main considerations:

PROTECT AGAINST ILLNESS AND DEATH

It is essential to make sure that you have adequate protection in place, depending on your particular circumstance. There is no 'one-size-fits-all' protection solution so receiving professional advice is important when considering the right products for you and your family's needs. This will ensure that your finances remain secure if illness or death happens unexpectedly, giving peace of mind to you and your loved ones at what could otherwise be a difficult time.

A life insurance policy is one of the most important types of protection to have in place. It pays out a lump sum if you die during the duration of the policy, helping your family to pay off their debts, maintain their lifestyle or cover any other expenses they may have.

Critical illness cover can also provide valuable financial protection in case you are diagnosed with a specified serious illness while your policy is active. This type of cover will pay out a tax-free lump sum if you are diagnosed with an eligible condition, allowing you to concentrate on getting better without having to worry about bills piling up.

Income protection is also worth considering when developing your financial plan. This type of cover provides regular payments should you become ill or injured and are unable to work. This can help you cover your regular outgoings, such as mortgage payments or rent, while you recover.

WRITE OR REVIEW YOUR WILL

Writing or reviewing your Will is essential for making sure that your wishes are respected and carried out after you pass away. It ensures that your money and other assets go to the people and causes you care about, such as relatives, family friends, charitable organisations, etc. Additionally, it provides you with the opportunity to appoint guardians for any children in your life, so they can be looked after by people you know and trust.

If you don't have a Will in place when death occurs, then the rules of intestacy will be applied to distribute your assets and possessions according to legal guidelines. These might not always align with what you would have wanted. Therefore, it is important to obtain professional advice on how best to proceed with making a professional Will. Doing so can help to ensure that your wishes are appropriately recorded and respected, even after you've gone. With the right professional advice and guidance, writing or reviewing your Will provides peace of mind that comes with having your affairs in order.

CREATE AN ESTATE PLAN

Creating an estate plan is a step that can make a significant impact on the financial futures of your children and grandchildren. Despite common misconceptions, estate planning isn't only for the wealthy. In fact, due to rising house prices and the freezing of the Inheritance Tax (IHT) nil-rate band until April 2028, IHT could now be more impactful than before.

Fortunately, there are various ways in which you can minimise this unexpected burden, ranging from making lifetime gifts to utilising pensions and trusts. To get the most out of these options, it's best to seek professional financial advice. We can help guide you as you build a comprehensive estate plan tailored specifically to your needs, to ensure that your family is well-protected and their financial futures are secured. ■

BEING PREPARED FOR WHATEVER THE FUTURE MAY BRING

In uncertain times, receiving professional advice can help you feel confident you're doing everything you can to secure your family's finances. We will look at your personal, family and financial circumstances to recommend the right solutions for your individual needs. You can focus on enjoying life today, safe in the knowledge that you're prepared for whatever the future may bring. To find out more, please contact us.

FINANCIAL PRODUCTS FOR CHILDREN

ONE FOUR NINE GROUP - TIM STUBBINS,
CHARTERED FINANCIAL PLANNER

Another day, another year. Traditionally, at the start of a new year lots of people tend to think about resolutions. Something to focus on, 'new year, new me' mentality. To get fitter, drink less, spend more time with friends and family, review your or your family's finances, the list goes on.

An area that may not necessarily spring to mind is looking into and engaging your children with some financial assistance. You can never start too early, so whether it's your own children, grandchildren, nieces and nephews or your friends' children, getting to grips with financial products/options that exist specifically for children will only help enhance their future.

Remember that any financial assistance started today could help children with future university fees, in buying their first home or encouraging them to save towards their retirement. Involving them in finances now will help teach them the benefits of long-term investing.

So what options are available in this regard? Probably the most common method of saving for a child/grandchild's future is to open and/or contribute to a bank account in their name. The Bank of England base rate currently stands at a level not seen since 2009, (<https://thinkplutus.com/uk-interest-rate-history/>), and whilst on the face of it these investments provide monetary security (£1 invested today will still be worth £1 when it is withdrawn, plus hopefully a little bit more by way of interest), deposit savings have, historically, failed to keep pace with inflation, which means their 'purchasing power' is eroded over time (£10,000 today would purchase you less than it would have 20 years ago). With inflation also running at an unprecedented high, it is unlikely that a deposit account investment would provide any 'real returns' for your child/grandchild (i.e. returns in excess of inflation) over the long-term.

It is also worth highlighting that if the child achieves over £100 of interest in a given tax year on monies gifted to them by their parents, this interest is taxable against the parents at their marginal rate (<https://www.gov.uk/savings-for-children>). A possible alternative to avoid this drawback is to use a Junior Individual Savings Account (JISA).

Similar to adult ISAs, there are two types of JISAs: a Cash JISA and a Stocks & Shares JISA. They can only be opened by those who have parental responsibility; however anyone can contribute to a JISA on behalf of the child, including their grandparents, but the maximum of all contributions is limited to £9,000 p.a. (2022/23 tax year). As with an adult ISA, the interest/investment returns achieved on a JISA are done so tax free, and withdrawals (when they are eventually made) are done so free of any Income or Capital Gains tax liability, and zero reporting requirements.

Whilst a Cash JISA provides the same monetary security as a deposit savings account, it also carries the same inflationary risk over the long-term. A Stocks & Shares JISA has the potential to counter this by allowing your gift to be invested in global or local stock markets. The choice of investments in this regard is so vast, it would require a separate article of its own! But historically, equities have outpaced inflation over the long-term and provide investors with 'real returns' (i.e. returns in excess of inflation). There are, however, some very real short-term risks to equity investments, and the potential that you could get back less than what was invested.

Both Cash and Stocks & Shares JISAs can be opened at any age and become the child's to manage at age 16, and theirs to use as they see fit from age 18. If the child is young and has 10+ years before they attain age 18, then it might be best to consider the Stocks & Shares option. If, however, the child is aged 13 or over, then a Cash JISA might be better as it avoids any short-term risks associated with equity investing.

The fact that JISAs provide full and unrestricted access to the child at age 18 is often a sticking point for a number of clients who want to retain an element of control as to how the gift is accessed, and when. An alternative that I often suggest to my clients is to establish a separate standalone investment account in their own name but held in 'designation' for the child. Depending on the provider of the separate standalone investment account, the investments that are made may have differing legal consequences for the adult that opened the account and the child whom it is intended for, including the potential application of Inheritance Tax. It is very important to check and fully understand from the provider and your financial adviser what the consequences are for both the adult and the child. Please note, however, that when it comes to eventually distributing the investment proceeds, any tax consequences stemming from the sale of the investment fall upon the adult owner, so make sure you manage this correctly, including the requirement of registering the account on the Trustee Register where suitable.

Designated accounts are great for regular contributions (every Christmas and/or birthday for example), but for lump sum gifts Trusts are another option where you get to retain an element of control. Again, the ins-and-outs of Trust planning is a topic in itself, but monies placed into Trust can be held and distributed at the discretion of the Trustees (of which the person making the gift, often referred to as the 'Settlor', can be included). This ensures that the funds are only distributed at the intended time. Another feature of gifts made to Trust is that the proceeds have the potential to escape the 'Settlor's' Estate for Inheritance Tax after seven complete years of the gift being made, which may be advantageous to some parents/grandparents depending on their circumstances.

The final option available to parents is to establish a pension on behalf of their child using the gifted proceeds. Pensions can be established for a child of any age by the parents but once it is in force, anyone can make contributions towards this arrangement. Contributions made receive basic rate tax relief at source, so a £100 contribution becomes a gross pension investment of £125.

There are, however, restrictions on the amount that can be contributed on the child's behalf whilst they are not working, and this is £2,880 net p.a. (£3,600 after basic rate tax relief has been added).

In terms of access, pensions are certainly the most restrictive. Under current legislation the earliest that an individual is able to access their pension is age 55 but the intention is to push this back to ten years prior to State Pension age. I often say to clients that the earlier a person invests in a pension, the better! And its restrictive access means the child gets to fully understand and explore the benefits of holding a long-term investment, without fear of it being squandered at an early age. ■

TAXING TIMES

TIME FOR A TAX HEALTH CHECK?

With the current tax year having begun on 6 April 2022, the clock is ticking and it is important to utilise all the tax reliefs and allowances available to you before 5 April 2023 in order to minimise any potential liabilities.

Personal tax planning should be at the top of your agenda as the end of the current tax year is not too far away. Taking action now may give you the opportunity to take advantage of any remaining reliefs, allowances and exemptions.

At the same time, you should be considering whether there are any planning opportunities that you need to consider either for this tax year or for your long-term future. We've listed a few reminders of the issues you may want to consider as worthy of including in your 2022/23 tax health check to-do list.

SOME KEY THINGS YOU MIGHT NEED TO ACTION BEFORE THE TAX YEAR END

Personal reliefs: Married couples should consider utilising each person's personal reliefs, as well as their starting and basic rate tax bands. Could you make gifts of income-producing assets (which must be outright and unconditional) to distribute income more evenly between you both?

Salary sacrifice: This is an especially tax-efficient way for you to make pension contributions, to save and reduce your Income Tax and National Insurance. Have you considered exchanging part of your salary for payments into an approved share scheme or additional pension contributions?

Pensions annual allowance: Unless you are an additional rate taxpayer or have already accessed pension benefits then you are entitled to make up to £40,000 of pension contributions per tax year. Have you fully utilised your tax-efficient contributions for this tax year or any unused allowances from the three previous tax years?

Stakeholder pensions: A stakeholder pension is available to any United Kingdom resident under the age of 75. Children can also make annual net contributions of £2,880 per year, making the gross amount £3,600 regardless of any earnings. It is also a very beneficial way of giving children or grandchildren a helping hand for the future. Is this an option you or a family member should be utilising?

Large pension funds: The Lifetime Allowance (LTA) is currently £1,073,100 and has been frozen at this level until the 2025/26 tax year. The maximum you can pay in is £40,000 per annum unless you pay tax at 45% in which case the annual limit could be as low as £4,000. Inflationary increases by the end of the current tax year could also have an impact on your pension funds. Do you have a plan in place to protect your money from this?

/// PERSONAL TAX PLANNING SHOULD BE AT THE TOP OF YOUR AGENDA AS THE END OF THE CURRENT TAX YEAR IS NOT TOO FAR AWAY. TAKING ACTION NOW MAY GIVE YOU THE OPPORTUNITY TO TAKE ADVANTAGE OF ANY REMAINING RELIEFS, ALLOWANCES AND EXEMPTIONS.

Pension drawdown: If you are 55 or over you could access 25% tax-free cash from your Defined Contribution (also known as Money Purchase) pension pots and invest the rest. However, drawing large amounts in one tax year can lead to a larger tax bill than if spread over a longer period. Do you know the implications of taking money out of your pension pots?

Passing on your pension: Usually called a 'spousal by-pass trust', although the recipient may not always be a spouse, this is a discretionary trust set up by the pension scheme member or pension holder to receive pension death benefits. Are your pension death benefits written in trust?

Individual Savings Accounts (ISAs): An ISA allows you to save and invest tax-efficiently into a cash savings or investment account. The proceeds are shielded from Income Tax, tax on dividends and Capital Gains Tax. The government puts a cap on how much you can put into your ISA or ISAs in any tax year (from 6 April to 5 April). The ISA allowance for 2022/23 is set at £20,000. Have you fully utilised the maximum annual allowance?

Junior ISAs: This is a long-term tax-efficient savings account set up by a parent or guardian, specifically for the child's future. Only the child can access the money, and only once they turn 18. Have you invested the maximum £9,000 allowance for your child or children?

Lifetime ISAs (LISAs): The Lifetime ISA (LISA) is a tax-efficient savings or investments account designed to help those aged 18 to 39 at the time of opening to buy their first home or save for retirement. The government will provide a 25% bonus on the money invested, up to a maximum of £1,000 per year. You can save up to £4,000 a year, and can continue to pay into it until you reach age 50. Could you be taking advantage of this very tax-efficient option?

Capital Gains Tax (CGT): There are two different rates of CGT – one for property and one for other assets. If your assets are owned jointly with another person, you could use both of your allowances, which can effectively double the amount you can make before CGT is payable. If you are married or in a registered civil partnership, you are free to transfer assets to each other without any CGT being charged. It is currently £12,300 but will be reduced to £6,000 from 6 April 2023 and £3,000 from 6 April 2024. Have you fully used your current £12,300 annual exemption?

Inheritance Tax (IHT) relief: IHT must be paid on the value of any estate above £325,000, or up to £1 million for married couples including the residence nil-rate band). However, certain business assets, including some types of shares and farmland, in private trading companies can qualify for 100% relief from IHT. The government has frozen the IHT thresholds for two more years to April 2028. Are you taking advantage of the reliefs available to you?

Residence nil-rate band (RNRB): This allowance was introduced during the 2017/18 tax year and is available when a main residence is passed on death to a direct descendant. The allowance is currently £175,000. When combined with the nil-rate band of £325,000, this provides a total IHT exemption of £500,000 per person, or £1 million per married couple. If you are planning to give away your home to your children or grandchildren (including adopted, foster and stepchildren) the RNRB must be claimed. There is a form for this purpose – IHT435. The form is available on the Gov.uk website. If applicable, have you applied for the RNRB?

Charitable and personal gifts: If you leave at least 10% of your net estate to charity a reduced inheritance rate of 36% applies rather than the usual 40%. Other exemptions apply for inter-spousal transfers, transfers of unused annual income, business and agricultural assets, and for various other fixed, small amounts. Are you intending to make gifts before the end of the current tax year?

Trust funds: These help protect your assets and guarantee that your loved ones have financial stability for their future. Crucially, a trust can help to avoid IHT and ensure that the majority of your money, shares and equity are passed on in the most efficient way. Should you consider setting up a trust?

Future legislation could potentially result in changes to tax law, which could in turn require adjustments to your plans. ■

TIME TO GET YOUR RETIREMENT PLANS IN MOTION?

THREE IN FIVE BRITONS FEEL STRESSED ABOUT LATER LIFE PLANNING

It's only natural, in a world where most people are worried about things that are beyond their control – the rising cost of living, increasing inflation and interest rates that haven't been seen for years – that you may also feel out of your depth when it comes to things like pensions and later life preparations.

When it comes to later life planning, more than three in five people (61%) feel stressed when they think about their retirement.

This figure rises to almost three-quarters (74%) of 25–34-year-olds, new research has highlighted^[1].

Unsurprisingly, given the current economic climate, all age groups, with the exception of the over-55s, admit to being stressed about: whether or not they will have enough money set aside at retirement to do all the things they want to do (71%); how long their pension pot will last (65%); whether or not they are paying enough into their pension pot (59%); and how early they need to start paying into a pension (49%).

In the majority of cases, the most anxious across all age groups are the 25–34-year-olds, with the starkest contrasts in numbers being around how early they need to start paying into a pension (70% vs 49% nat. avg), whether or not they should have more than one pension pot (70% vs 50%) or if they are paying enough into their pension savings (77% vs 59%).

However, with a little planning and simple rules of thumb, you can feel more in control of your savings and know if you are on track for the lifestyle you want in your retirement.

GIVE YOU GREATER CONTROL OVER WHEN YOU RETIRE AND WITH HOW MUCH MONEY

How long? Aim to save for your retirement at least 40 years before you want to retire. The later you leave it, the more you will need to save each month to reach your target.

How much? Try to save at least 12.5% of your salary towards your pension every month – this may seem challenging at the moment but something to aim for. And remember, this can include money from you, your employer and the government.

Final pot size? Aim to amass a pension pot of at least ten times your salary by the time you retire.

Tax relief: Take advantage of the tax relief offered by the government to boost your savings. When saving into a pension, for every £8 you save, the taxman adds an extra £2.

Employer contributions: Every employer in the UK must provide eligible employees with a workplace pension. Not only that, but they must contribute to this pension. Some employers will contribute more if you save more, helping towards the 12.5% target.

Invest wisely: By investing your money, in a pension or elsewhere, your money can grow through to your target retirement date.

Investment risk: The value of investments can go down as well as up and you may get back less than has been invested but remember that investing in a pension is a long-term investment and over time you could reap greater rewards.

Keep checking: Saving for your retirement should not be a 'set and forget' activity. Use your annual pension statement to check if you are on track for your retirement target.

Reframe your expectations: Life expectancy in retirement could be 20 years or more, so bear in mind how long your money may need to last.

Use the pension freedoms: From 2015, the pension freedoms allow more flexibility in retirement planning, but take time to understand the options before acting.

Search for lost pensions: There are close to 3m lost pensions in the UK where pension providers and clients have lost touch with each other; this equates to £26.6bn, or £9,470 per person^[2]. If you think you've lost touch with a pension check with the Pension Tracing Service. ■

TRACING OLD AND LOST PENSIONS

NEARLY HALF OF PENSION HOLDERS HAVE LOST TRACK OF SOME OF THEIR PENSION POTS

The lost pensions challenge in the UK has grown significantly in recent years, further exacerbated by the pandemic, which resulted in a large proportion of people moving jobs. A recent Pension Policy Institute research briefing calculated the total value of lost pension pots has grown to £26.6 billion in 2022^[1].

If you've worked for several employers throughout your career, you might have accumulated multiple pension plans. You may also have set up personal pensions, especially if you've been self-employed or a contractor at some point.

ADMINISTRATIVE BURDEN

Owning multiple pensions can be an administrative burden, but it could also be costing you financially – whether that's through excessive fees or poor investment performance. Today, nearly half (46%) of UK pension holders have lost track of some of their pension pots, according to new research^[2].

This means that – against the backdrop of the rising cost of living – millions of people across the country could right now be missing out on pension pots that are sat with their previous employers.

RETIREMENT PLANS

Nowadays, the average UK employee has 11 jobs over their lifetime, the research highlights. So while it's understandable that savers may forget how many pension pots they've accrued over the years, they currently risk incurring unnecessary management fees – or even missing out on those savings altogether – at a time when higher inflation threatens to spoil their retirement plans.

Moreover, savers who have kept track of their pension pots will be in a much better position to make informed retirement decisions when they get older. 13% of people did not know how to track down a pension pot from their previous job. And although savers currently have the option of combining their pensions, 16% didn't know how to go about tracing their lost money.

MULTIPLE PENSIONS

This lack of knowledge is particularly worrying. Having multiple pensions with different employers or pension providers can create an unnecessary headache for retirees, and this will come at a time in life when things should ideally be less challenging for them.

To complicate matters even further, the number of workers with small pension pots of under £1,000 has skyrocketed in recent years. The Pensions Policy Institute (PPI) has predicted that the problem is only going to get worse, with the number of small pots set to triple to 27 million by 2035.

BETTER RETIREMENT

The recent PPI research on lost pension pots also indicated that the speed at which pension pots were being classified as lost was increasing, with an extra 1.2 million pots having been 'lost' in the four-year period between 2018 and 2022. That's a 75% increase in lost pots in just four years.

While consolidation will not be the best option for all pots, for some people consolidating their pensions into one pot would undoubtedly bring them much closer to their money, increasing their sense of ownership and control, and potentially setting them up for a better retirement. ■

LOOKING TO KEEP TRACK OF YOUR FINANCES MORE EASILY?

Consolidating your pensions into one pot could help you keep track of your finances more easily, reduce charges and boost how much money you have in the future. But while there are advantages to pension consolidation, there are potential drawbacks and it's important to seek advice on whether it's right for you. MENOPAUSE IN THE WORKPLACE

UNIQUE RETIREMENT PLANNING CHALLENGES WOMEN FACE

Women make up nearly half of the UK workforce, but many feel forced to reduce their hours at work, pass up promotions and even leave their jobs due to lack of menopause support. While symptoms vary between individuals, for many women the menopause can have a big impact on their everyday life.

It's only further down the line that the resulting missed pension contributions become apparent, but by then it may be too late. A new report, 'Bridging the Gender Pension Gap',^[1] looks at the unique retirement planning challenges women face, as well as the contrasting attitudes and savings behaviour of women and men.

SIGNIFICANT GENDER PENSION GAP

Women face a number of challenges that could limit their ability to save for retirement and, ultimately, contribute to a significant gender pension gap. These include an unequal distribution of caring responsibilities, the eligibility criteria for automatic enrolment which disadvantages those (mainly women) in part-time work, and the menopause.

Despite the menopause being a life event that almost all women will encounter as they grow older, it is a factor widely unregistered when discussing women's retirement savings. Menopausal symptoms have forced thousands of women to reduce their hours or, worse still, leave work altogether. As a result, these women are missing out on important pension savings at a key stage in their life.

SAVING WHEN APPROACHING RETIREMENT

The analysis demonstrates the dramatic impact the menopause can have on women's pension savings. A 50-year-old woman in full-time work until the State Pension age of 67 could be better off by over £126k in pension savings when compared to a counterpart who stopped working at the same age. Women reducing their working hours at age 50 could lose out on £63k in their pension pot.

Workers are most focused on saving when approaching their retirement. Those aged 55 and over are saving the greatest amount, more than twice as much as those aged 18-34. Being able to save during this stage of life is critical to achieve healthy retirement savings.

EARNINGS AS A BARRIER TO SAVING

There are significant disparities between women and men when it comes to their confidence, approach to, and outlook for retirement. The research finds that men are saving more into their workplace pension. Just 20% of eligible women contribute over the statutory minimum of 8% to their workplace pension, compared to 28% of men.

Earnings present a key barrier to women saving more. 50% of women view their earnings as a barrier to saving more versus just 30% of men. As a result of saving less, women are significantly less confident than men that their pension contributions will be enough to provide them with sufficient income for the duration of their retirement.

SUSCEPTIBLE TO LEAVING THE WORKFORCE

Almost half of women (48%) said they weren't confident, compared with only 28% of men. Overall, women have much wider and deeply felt concerns about what retirement may have in store for them. While the introduction of automatic enrolment ten years ago helped more women than ever save into a pension, the UK still faces a yawning gender pension gap.

Women in their 50s, for a variety of reasons, are much more susceptible to leaving the workforce than men. Separate studies show that caring responsibilities mean women are twice as likely to be forced to leave their job than men. However, a notable barrier to remaining in work, which is only just beginning to receive increased awareness, is the menopause. ■

ARE YOU CONFIDENT YOU HAVE ENOUGH MONEY FOR A COMFORTABLE RETIREMENT?

For most, retirement will be funded in the main by a pension. It is therefore vital you have a robust plan in place that will allow you to grow and protect your pension, both now and in the future.

With ever-changing rules and regulations, we now have a pension system that is often difficult to navigate, putting many off using this as a savings vehicle. To find out more, speak to us to discuss your options.

[1] Royal London partnered with independent research agency Cicero/amo to undertake a nationally representative survey of 3,042 adults in the UK. Fieldwork was conducted between 13–24 May 2022.

Based on women having £100,000 fund at age 50, salary of £40,000 for full time and £20,000 for part time, 10% pension contributions based on full earnings and 5% fund growth, their respective fund sizes at age 67 would be £355,510 for the full-time worker and £292,356 for the part-time worker – a difference of £63,154.
